

McMULLEN SAYS PROH. MEASURE EFFECTIVE

Introducer of Resolution Makes Extended Reply to Col. G. B. Wells' Recent Article.

Senator Don C. McMullen, of Tampa, has, at the request of C. L. Collins, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Florida, prepared a reply to the article recently written by Hon. G. B. Wells, of Plant City, in which Mr. Wells stated that the proposed amendment to the constitution of this State, passed by the Legislature during its recent session and prohibiting the sale of liquor in Florida after June, 1911, will be ineffective if ratified by the people at the election in November, 1910.

Senator McMullen, who is an authority, not to be lightly considered, takes the stand that the amendment will become effective at the time specified, should the people pass it next year. The Sun published Mr. Wells' letter, and in a spirit of fairness it reproduces Senator McMullen's reply, which is as follows:

Tampa, Fla., July 4, 1909.
Mr. C. L. Collins, Jacksonville, Fla.:

My Dear Sir—Your letter of the 1st inst., calling to my attention the article signed by G. B. Wells, Esq., in which some one, over Mr. Wells' signature, feebly attempts to show the proposed amendment to the constitution to be ineffectual, has been received.

My reluctance in granting your request for a reply to this article arises from the doubt which I have as to the authorship of it. I like to know to whom I am replying, and I feel quite sure that Mr. Wells never composed the article referred to. The proposed amendment to the constitution is as follows:

"Senate joint resolution proposing an amendment to Article XIX of the constitution of the State of Florida, relating to the manufacture and sale of other disposal of intoxicating liquors or beverages.

"Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida, That Article XIX of the constitution of the State of Florida be, and the same is, hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Article XIX. Section 1. The manufacture and sale, barter or exchange of all intoxicating liquors and beverages, whether spirituous, vinous or malt, are hereby prohibited in the State of Florida, except alcohol, for medical, scientific or mechanical purposes, and wine for sacramental purposes; the sale of which alcohol and wine for the purposes aforesaid shall be regulated by law.

"Sec. 2. The Legislature shall enact suitable laws for the enforcement of the provisions of this article.

"Sec. 3. This article shall go into effect on the first day of July, A. D. 1911."

The writer of the Wells article proceeds to demonstrate:

First. That the proposed amendment is of no effect because it provides by its terms that it doesn't go into effect until July 1, 1911, a date subsequent to its adoption.

Second. That if the author of the article is mistaken as to his first proposition (which he seems to think probable) and the amendment does become a part of the constitution, there can be no legislation under it until the session of 1913.

The Contentions Made.

The first ground of the argument reminds me of a pompous but stupid fellow who was in the law class with me, who made the discovery that the constitution was unconstitutional in several points. The author of the Wells article discovers that because the Supreme Court, in its advisory opinion to the Governor, 34 Florida, page 590, advises that an amendment to the constitution which prescribes no time at which it shall go into effect, becomes operative at once; that, therefore, the people are powerless to adopt an amendment to the constitution going into effect at a date subsequent to the date of the election at which it is adopted. He seems to forget that the constitution is the creature of the people of Florida, and that they can amend it as they please. He also seems to overlook a fact appearing in plain language in his article, that "the constitution of the State of Florida, which was adopted by the electors of said State at the general election held in November, 1888, by an ordinance of said constitution became effective on January 1, 1887." He also seems to have forgotten, if he ever knew, that constitutional provisions are divided into two well recognized classes, viz: Those that are self-executing and those that are not. A constitutional provision that is not self-executing remains inoperative until the Legislature, in its discretion, shall by supplemental legislation carry it into effect. And a constitutional provision which requires subsequent legislation to carry it into effect is not self-executing. It seems to me that the argument of the author of the Wells article on this point is so absurd, so utterly lacking in precedent or logic, that it is hardly worthy of consideration.

The Second Point.

As to the second point, I am quite sure that the consideration was given the language of the proposed amendment or a different conclusion would have been reached.

The first section prohibits the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, except for specified purposes.

The second section requires the Legislature to enact legislation to enforce or to carry into effect the first section.

The third section says when it shall go into effect.

The first section is not self-executing. Therefore, it is necessary for the Legislature to act to make the first section operative.

The third section provides that it shall go into effect on the first day of July, 1911. Therefore, it must be necessary for the Legislature to act prior to that date, or the article cannot go into effect then. Cyclopaedia of Law and Procedure, volume 8, section 311, says: "The intent of the framers of a constitution, when ascertained, will prevail over any part of the law. But the intent is to be ascertained, not alone by considering the words of any part of the instrument, but by ascertaining the general purpose of the whole; and when the intent of the whole is ascertained no part is to be construed so that the general purpose shall be thwarted, but the whole is to be made to conform to reason and good discretion." The Supreme Court of California says, in French vs. Teschemaker, 24 California, 518: "For the purpose of harmonizing apparently conflicting clauses (in a constitution) each must be read with direct reference to every other which relates to the same subject, and so read, if possible, as to avoid repugnancy. And to that end sections, paragraphs and sentences may be transposed, elegance of composition may be sacrificed, and the meaning of the words and phrases may be restricted or enlarged."

The place occupied by a provision in a constitution is of no material importance. State ex rel. vs. Barnes, 24 Florida, 29.

The whole instrument is to be examined with a view to ascertaining the meaning of each and every part, and as a necessary result of this rule it follows that whenever it is possible to do so each provision must be construed so that it shall harmonize with all others, without distorting the meaning of any of such provisions, to the end that the intent of the framers may be ascertained and carried out and effect given to the instrument as a whole." 8 Cyclopaedia L. & P., page 730; Cooley's Constitution al Limitations, page 70.

Recognize Rules.

In the light of these observations the meaning of the amendment must be clear, not only to the judicial mind, but to the layman of ordinary observation. But there are other well recognized rules of constitutional construction that may be employed, if the text of a provision of constitution is ambiguous.

The purpose of the constitutional provision may be ascertained from extrinsic facts. Judge Cooley, in his admirable work on Constitutional Limitations, page 79, says: "If a difficulty really exists, which an examination of every part of the instrument does not enable us to remove, there are certain extrinsic aids which may be resorted to and which are more or less satisfactory in the light they afford. Among these aids is a contemplation of the object to be accomplished or the mischief designed to be remedied or guarded against by the clause in which the ambiguity is met with."

Intent of the Legislature.

There can be no doubt from extraneous information as to what the object of the amendment was. Then another rule of construction, if the text is ambiguous, is that the proceedings of the body proposing the constitutional provision in question may be examined for light as to its meaning. Again Judge Cooley says, page 80: "Where the proceedings clearly point out the purpose of the provision the aid will be valuable and satisfactory." An examination of the Senate journal will show the proceedings with respect to the prohibition amendment to be, that as it was first introduced it was designed to go into effect on the first day of January, 1911, and the second section provided a penalty for the violation of the provisions of the article. In other words, as originally introduced the amendment was made self-executing because the time of its taking effect was prior to the next session of the Legislature. On account of the fact that the amendment did not contain satisfactory restrictions for selling alcohol for medicine and wine for sacramental purposes, Senator Crill proposed, and the committee unanimously agreed with him, to postpone the time when the amendment should go into effect until after the session of the Legislature. In order that the Legislature might have an opportunity to enact laws to properly carry all the provision of the amendment into effect. The journal will show that the committee accordingly amended the original resolution proposing the amendment and that the committee's amendments were adopted by the Senate. Then assuming that there might be ambiguity to the text of the proposed amendment as to the time when it goes into effect, the object of it and the proceedings of the Senate in adopting it, show beyond a shadow of a doubt what was intended.

To Divert Attention.

There is nothing in the contention of the author of the Wells article but an effort to divert the attention of the people from the real merits of the fight. This we will not permit. We are going to fight it out along these lines (not, "if it takes all summer," as General Grant said but, "if it takes ten years."

If anybody thinks that the liquor people believe with the author of the Wells article that the proposed amendment will be "void if adopted," just let them wait and see if the liquor people fight the adoption of it.

SMALL INCREASE IN COUNTY ASSESSMENT

ASSESSOR COLSON STATES THAT
TOTAL IS OVER $6,000,000.

Commissioners Assess the Levy for the Ensuing Year and Take an Adjournment.

The County Commissioners, who have been in session nearly all of the present week, adjourned Friday after fixing the levy of taxes for the ensuing year.

A large part of their time has been consumed in going over the tax books, it requiring over two days to make the inspection, and also considering a large number of bills that have been presented them for approval.

Following is the levy and millage that will now have to be paid for the year 1909:

State levy	7 1/2 mills.
County levy, schools	7 mills.
County levy, road	3 mills.
County levy, F. & F.	1 mill.
County levy, Gen. Fund	1 mill.

Total 19 1/2 mills.

The aggregate value of taxes in Alachua county will run over six million, being in the neighborhood of $6,085,000, a gain of some thousand dollars, so Tax Assessor Colson states.

He also said that the increase, for the past year had not been in proportion to what it should have been, owing to the prevailing conditions not only in this county, but all over the country, and that many of the main industries of the country were now dormant, and in consequence have been reduced in valuation.

QUIET FOURTH AT MELROSE.

Baseball Game With Waldo—Other
Notes of Interest.

MELROSE, July 8.—Melrose certainly had a "safe and sane" Fourth of July—not a single cracker or piece of fireworks was set off. Only the National flag flying over the town hall showed that the day was observed.

Attention is called to the fact that the sale of town property on which the taxes are still unpaid will take place on July 14th.

H. Barnett, from Hollendale, is visiting his mother for a few days on his way North.

After several false alarms the Waldo baseball team came over for a game on Tuesday afternoon, quite a number of friends coming with them. Considering that the Waldo team is a semi-professional one, while Melrose is strictly amateur, the result, 7 to 19 in favor of Waldo, speaks well of the good work of the home boys. Some twenty-odd Waldoites had supper at the Huffman House, indulging afterwards in an enjoyable dance.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Gainesville People Know How to Save It.

Many Gainesville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a Gainesville citizen's recommendation:

Mrs. E. H. Walters, 108 N. Oak avenue, Gainesville, Fla., says: "My kidneys were disordered for some time and I could find nothing that would relieve me. I suffered greatly from headaches and was often so dizzy that I could not stand. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box and began their use. They acted quickly and it was not long before I received relief. I have no hesitation in giving Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

The Jacksonville Metropolis says: "Miss Willie Stetson of this city was in her possession an issue of The Columbia (S. C.) Guardian of September 5, 1864.

"This newspaper tells of the battle of Gainesville, Fla., which showed the remarkable bravery of the late Gen. J. J. Dickson.

"Dickson, with but one hundred and sixty men, and all fighters, defeated the Federals, numbering several hundred. Only two Confederates were killed, while twenty-three Federals were slain and a large number injured. The Confederates also captured the lieutenant-colonel, six captains, seven lieutenants and two hundred and two privates.

"The paper above mentioned gave Dickson credit for the great victory."

S.S.S. PURIFIES BAD BLOOD

Bad blood is responsible for most of our ailments, and when from a cause it becomes infected with impurities, humors or poisons, trouble in some form is sure to follow. Muddy, sallow complexions, eruptions, pimples, etc. show that the blood is infected with unhealthy humors which have changed it from a pure, fresh stream to a sour, acrid fluid, which forces out impurities through the pores and glands of the skin. A very common evidence of bad blood is sores and ulcers, which break out on the flesh, often from a very insignificant bruise, or even scratch or abrasion. If the blood was healthy the place would heal at once; but being infected with impurities which are discharged into the wound, irritation and inflammation are set up, the fibres and tissues are broken, and the sore continues until the blood is purified of the cause. S. S. S. is Nature's blood-purifier and tonic made entirely from roots, herbs and barks. It goes down into the circulation and removes every particle of impurity, humor or poison, restores vitality, and steadily tones up the entire system. S. S. S. neutralizes all excess of acid in the blood, making it pure, fresh and healthy, and permanently cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Boils, and all other skin eruption or disease. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

That there has been an enormous increase in the cost of living within the past decade is strikingly shown in the following local reader from a copy of The Gainesville Gazette, of the year 1891: "Nice fresh, fat beef every morning. Best steak, 8c; good steak, 6c and 7c. Fore shoulder, 4c. H. Pnikoson." The best cuts of steak are sold in Gainesville today at 20 cents per pound, while the very cheapest is 10 cents, which is 2 cents more than was charged for the best in 1891.

American manufacturers deliver print paper in Bristol, England, for $6.50 per ton less than they charge for the same in New York City. Yet these same manufacturers claim it costs $8.57 more to manufacture a ton of print paper in the United States than it does to manufacture it in Canada. If this be true, how can the American manufacturer undersell the Canadian in England? The statement is nothing more nor less than a barefaced lie to influence Congress to retain the duty on wood pulp and print paper.

INDUSTRY BY PUBLICITY.

No one doubts that publicity—advertising, at the last analysis—is one of the main ingredients in the evolution of big modern business. How this principle may be applied effectively on a co-operative basis to widen markets and create new ones, is illustrated by the striking success of the allied fruit growers of California.

Two years ago the growers, through their exchange, began an advertising campaign with an appropriation of $5,000. The next year they spent $25,000 telling the country about the virtues of California fruit. And this year the sum of $50,000 has been set aside for the same purpose.

One significant instance of the profit in such procedure is shown in the case of Sioux City. In one year, without publicity, this market consumed ninety carloads of California fruit. The next year, with advertising, the amount jumped to 172, or nearly 100 per cent.

Other similarly impressive comparisons are given for various localities, and they must be credited, since hard-headed business men would not be increasing a cold outlay of cash in so large a ratio in two years, did not results justify the expenditure.

The growers have found that the campaign was aided by adopting special brands for different fruits, and applying them throughout the process of marketing and publicity, even going so far as to wrap each individual orange in tissue paper bearing the title of the brand.

All these revelations are coming out as the result of the investigations of a committee of orange-growers from Florida, seeking to discover the reason for the encroaching sales of the Western product.

It is a safe bet that the men from the South will take a leaf from the experience of Western enterprise, and straightway inaugurate similar methods. They do not expect to displace the California product. Their plan is to increase the demand for Florida fruit, so that as a result of their campaign the total consumption of the country will appreciate considerably.

The idea might, with advantage, be adapted to other Southern products. The art of publicity, as exemplified by the stimulation of industry and the legitimate quickening of consumption, is barely in its infancy in America. The South has as much to gain as the West in studying its possibilities and the way to materialize them. —Atlanta Constitution

THE SILLY SEASON.

This is the time of the year when no prediction is too preposterous to find makers and believers. We have, for instance, people who go about predicting $2 wheat. Others, who see nothing but weeds and boll weevil where cotton should grow, are speaking about 15-cent cotton. Moreover, the silly season is usually signalized by those revolting commissions of crime whose accounts are being paraded day by day in horrible detail through the columns of the press before the eyes of a wearied yet morbidly curious public.

There is something in the mid-summer's heat and strain which apparently steals away people's balance. Where the environment is such as to impair their powers by pressure of occupation, by worry, and by adverse natural conditions of temperature, it is not to be wondered that there are breakdowns in the capacity of people to bear their burdens. It has been statistically ascertained that the hot summer months record the maximum of each year's crime. Suicides are more numerous and various other manifestations of human weakness seem to come to a climax.

The cause of this may be viewed differently. But there is much in the position that the extreme publicity given to these abnormal manifestations acts much as a wave of suggestion upon the thoughts and feelings of the population as a whole.

Blind mosquitoes came pretty near putting Palatka out of business a night or two this week. They came suddenly and in such quantities that stores had to close. In the offices of the G. Loper Bailey Co., nearly a barrel were swept up and about a bushel were cleaned up one morning at the Ackerman-Stewart Drug Co's. It's been some twenty-five years since these mosquitoes have put in any appearance before. It's a good thing they are not the biting kind.—San Mateo Item

DEATH OF MRS. WEEKS.

Mrs. Joel T. Weeks passed away last Sunday morning at 12:30 at the residence of her son, Orlando B. Weeks, after a long illness of general debility.

Her pleasant nature made her friends by the score and her devotion to her family was something to emulate.

For many years Mrs. Weeks was a resident of this city and was loved and highly respected by everyone who knew her.

Her sons, Orlando, Frank and Ernest, have the sympathy of this city, as only six months before they had their beloved father away.

The funeral was held in the Baptist church by her request and her body was laid by the side of her husband amid a large concourse of loving relatives and friends. The pastor, Rev. R. E. Green, conducted the services.—Waldo News, 9th.

DAVE HADDOCK KILLED IN PECULIAR MANNER

Sad Fate of One of the Best Known Engineers on the Atlantic Coast Line.

From Saturday's Daily Sun:

D. H. Haddock, a former citizen of Gainesville, and for over twenty years one of the valued engineers on the Coast Line railway system, was killed in a wreck on this road at Micanopy Junction Thursday night about 8:15 o'clock.

The wreck occurred on what is known as train No. 9. It was in charge of Conductor Miller and Engineer Hunt and was backing out from having made the trip into the station from the junction; when, nearing this point, the first-class coach left the track and embedded its rear end in the sand bank about 100 yards from the Junction station.

Haddock, in company with Conductor Miller and the flagman, were all standing on the rear end of the coach at the time the train left the track, and before they were aware that anything had happened the coach struck the embankment with sufficient force to bend the iron hand guard over and crush the life from the old-time engineer. He was in this position when recovered from the wreck and it was very evident that death was instantaneous.

Both Conductor Miller and the flagman had each been embedded in the sand, and while they were badly frightened and shook up from the accident neither now feel that they have been injured to any extent.

The first-class coach which overturned on the side of the embankment contained some twenty or more passengers at the time, but no injury is reported to have occurred to any of them.

The colored coach also left the rails, but did not turn over, for the train was stopped in less than two car lengths after the accident happened.

There were many rumors afloat as to the cause of the accident, but at a late hour Friday afternoon no direct cause had been given the superintendent of the road in this city. He is inclined to think that some obstruction was on the track at the time that caused the coach to jump the rails, and which afterwards tore up the track. He believes that the report that the rails spread is untrue, as the cars would have never left the road bed had such been the case.

The train was within a few hundred yards of the junction at the time the accident happened and was not running at a rate of over four or five miles an hour when it struck the embankment.

As soon as the officials could be notified they at once had a relief train brought out from Palatka, as well as a wrecking train and crew from High Springs, and by 6 o'clock Friday morning the wreck had been fully cleared up. Conductor Williams and his crew, which make the round trip from Palatka to Rochelle, were brought into use and the passengers were transferred and carried on to their destination, Williams' train being used for the service all of Friday.

The remains were taken to Ocala by the railway officials, who secured an undertaker and had the body embalmed and prepared for burial and later shipped to the home of the deceased at St. Petersburg.

Mr. Haddock began his career as a railroad man in the old days of the Florida Southern and had been running as engineer for the company that absorbed this system until about five months since.

Up to about twelve months ago he and his wife were residents of Gainesville, but after the great change in the system he moved his family to St. Petersburg, which city has been their home ever since, although they both visited Gainesville regularly up to a few months since.

Dave, as he was familiarly known, had a large acquaintance all over the State and was universally esteemed by a large circle of friends.

The regular Micanopy connection was made from the wreck to the station by the engine and baggage coach of the wrecked train on Friday morning with Conductor Miller and Engineer Hunt, and they remained at the wreck until it was fully cleared away.

The first-class coach of this train is torn up considerably and will have to go to the shop for repairs and a general overhauling, while the remainder of the train is all right.

Last night's train was backed in over the wrecked place and trains from this time on will make the connection the same as before, the officials being very alert in having all damage repaired within a short while after it happened, which shows the rapidity with which the relief train was rushed to the place of the accident, the superintendent and other officials accompanying it.

Supt. Holloway Honored By the N. E. Association

DENVER, July 9.—By a lead of six votes over his nearest competitor, J. Y. Joyner of North Carolina was made the choice of the nominating committee for president of the National Educational Association yesterday. Benjamin Blewett of St. Louis was second.

Other officers elected were: Treasurer, A. H. Chamberlain, California, re-elected; first vice-president, L. H. Harvey, Wisconsin.

The election of James Yacklin Joyner, superintendent of public instruction of North Carolina, as president of the National Educational Association yesterday is regarded by his supporters as a victory in their fight against any regulation of the prices of school books. Mr. Joyner was elected over Ben. Blewett, head of the St. Louis schools, and Dr. J. H. Phillips of Birmingham, Ala.

The association passed a resolution against the existence of fraternities in high schools, in the regular sessions, Edwin G. Dexter, commissioner of education for Porto Rico, offered a resolution urging that Congress be asked to confer citizenship on the people of Porto Rico. Immediately a member from Alabama proposed freedom for the Philippines. Then Miss Mary Shirley of California declared that, "if there is going to be voice of this association to be raised in behalf of those who deserve it most, the women of the United States."

That was the end of the resolution.

Irwin M. Sheppard of Winona, Minn., was re-elected secretary; A. H. Chamberlain of California was re-elected treasurer, and Lorenzo D. Harvey, the retiring president, was elected first vice-president.

Florida was honored by the election of State Superintendent Holloway as one of the vice-presidents of the National Educational Association.

San Francisco was selected as the next meeting place of the National Educational Association.

Judge Lindsey of the Denver juvenile court spoke last night on boys. He declared there were no bad boys, but instead a bad atmosphere which the State should remove.

OAK HALLS LOSE IN GREAT LEAGUE BALL

GAME MOST INTERESTING CONTEST WITH SCORE 1 TO 0.

Both Batteries Do Good Work and Hits Held Down to 6 and 7, Orlando Getting the Most.

From Saturday's Daily Sun.

Big league ball was what was played in Orlando town on Friday when the Oak Halls were defeated by the small score of 1 to 0. So close was the contest that the "fans" at the matinee could raise no wind, even though they acknowledged that it was good to look at the many 0's that were being tagged, which was evidence sufficient of what was doing.

So familiar was the crowd with the 0's that they declared they will not have to study the Morse system to understand when one is sent in over the instrument that sounds the news.

Some fine work was shown up for both sides, evidently the strong work of both batteries, for the hits were Gainesville 6 and Orlando 7 with errors 2 and 3, Gainesville making the larger number.

Hines and Bullock were the battery for Gainesville, Windham and Story for Orlando.

This concludes the series of games with Orlando, Gainesville having won one out of the three and considering the material that the boys have gone up against and it is their first practice work for this season they have made a most excellent showing and no blame can be attached to any of the games, notwithstanding the write-up that The T-U. correspondent has been wiring to that paper. We would like to ask where he has ever seen a better series of games among amateurs as a whole?

D. M. DAVIDSON WEDS IN THE COUNTY JAIL

BRIDE IS MISS EVA LEE WAID OF WAYCROSS, GEORGIA.

Sheriff Kennerly Gave the Bride Away But Decided to Keep Groom as His Guest.

PALATKA, July 10.—A marriage of more than ordinary interest occurred Thursday at 2 o'clock, when D. M. Davidson, convicted of murder, was married to Miss Eva Lee Waid of Waycross, at the county jail. The ceremony was performed by Judge Cox, in a front room of the prison, as Sheriff Kennerly removed the prisoners from his cell long enough for the knot to be tied. The sheriff gave the blushing bride away but decided to keep the groom. Those who witnessed the affair were J. M. Kelley, who is Davidson's pal; Deputy Hagan and a few others. The bride is a woman of 45 years, weighs 250 pounds. Following the ceremony Mrs. Davidson left for High Springs, where she will see after her hubby's interests; but the groom returned to his private apartments in the jail, where he will remain until his case is decided or he assumes his life job with the State.

After the impressive ceremony was performed Mrs. Davidson said: "If I thought for a moment that Mr. Davidson was guilty of the crime with which he is charged I would not have married him."

After the magic words were spoken the bridegroom "saluted" the bride. Refreshments, which consisted of ice water and cake, were served.

MUST CONNECT WITH THE CITY SEWERAGE

PASS NEW ORDINANCE MAKING
SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS.

The Movement Will Be Started From Square and Spread Over Entire City.

The City Council has passed another ordinance which will prove of great interest to all property owners of the city, and especially those adjacent to the square at the present time.

This ordinance was passed for the purpose of compelling all property owners to connect up to the city sewerage, and special provision is made for the sections to come in rotation, hence it will be some time before the outside portions of the city are affected by this clause. For instance, it will commence on the square, and all property owners here must first connect up, then will advance another block in each direction, and so on until the entire city has been covered and the connections all made.

This move has been under contemplation for some time, but a great rush has been on here with the plumbers owing to the building operations and they have had about all that could be handled, hence the city has waited till they could better accommodate the demand that will be made upon them before passing the law.

The new law will go into effect immediately after the publication of same and it receives the proper signatures of mayor and president of the council.

CHALKER—HATHCOX.

Pretty Marriage Ceremony at Newberry Sunday, July 4th.

NEWBERRY, July 8.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized Sunday morning, July 4th, when Mr. Solon L. Chalker was united in holy wedlock to Miss Cora Hatchcox, the accomplished young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. I. Hatchcox, Justice Ira J. Carter officiating.

The wedding took place at the country home of the bride's parents. The house was beautifully decorated, being draped in evergreens and moss.

The bride was beautifully attired in white, while the groom wore the conventional black.

Immediately after the ceremony the guests were invited to the dining-room, where all kinds of refreshments were served, such a spread being seldom seen.

Following the ceremony the happy pair left via A. C. L. for South Florida, in which section they will make their future home.

The wedding was a quiet one, only a few of the nearest friends being present. Those present, besides the family, were: Mr. and Mrs. C. D. May and son, Dr. and Mrs. McLeod and daughter, Miss Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith, Ira J. Carter, H. J. Hamilton and Lee Swindall of Newberry, Mrs. W. F. Smith of Brooksville, Mr. Skipper and family of Half Moon, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Andrews of Tioga, Mr. and Mrs. North of Georgia, Mr. Chalker, a brother of the groom, of Ocala, and others.

TIOGA NOTES.

TIOGA, July 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Devine have returned from a visit to Georgia. They were accompanied by little William, Jr., the stork having paid them a visit while there.

HOTEL AT LUKENS DESTROYED BY FIRE

GUESTS HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM BURNING TO DEATH.

J. P. Little, a Traveling Salesman, Badly Burned About Arms and Hands in Making Escape.

CEDAR KEY, July 9.—The hotel building at Lukens, three miles from Cedar Key, was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. The fire started from an unknown cause about 3 a. m. in a back room on the first floor, occupied by a traveling salesman and soon spread over the entire building. The occupants were sleeping soundly at the time and several persons made very narrow escapes. Mr. J. P. Little was one of the heaviest sufferers, losing his clothes, watch and his surveying outfit, and barely escaping with his life. His arms and face were painfully burned.

The building was a two-story frame building, owned by the Tilghman Cypress Company, and used as a boarding-house. Scarcely anything was saved, many of the survivors losing all of their belongings and escaping in their night clothes.

Many people with chronic throat and lung trouble have found comfort and relief in Foley's Honey and Tar, as it cures stubborn coughs after other treatment has failed. L. M. Ruggles, Reasnor, Iowa, writes: "The doctors said I had consumption, and I got no better until I took Foley's Honey and Tar. It stopped the hemorrhages and pain in my lungs and they are now as sound as a bullet." J. W. McCollum & Co.

BUILDING BEING REMOVED.

Was Condemned by City Council
Some Few Weeks Ago.

The old laundry building which was partially destroyed by fire a few weeks since is now being torn away, according to the order of the City Council.

Just how soon before it be replaced by a new and up-to-date brick building cannot be stated, but it is the intention of the owner of the lot to build as soon as there is a demand for the store buildings.

OAK HALLS DEFEAT ORLANDO THURSDAY

GAME WAS PLAYED UPON A WET
DIAMOND.

Watson and Graham Each Secure
Two-Base Hits at Opportune
Time.

From Friday's Daily Sun.

Gainesville took the second game of the series from the fast Orlando boys on Thursday afternoon in a very exciting contest from beginning to end, the score being 5 to 3 in favor of the Oak Halls.

The crowd at the matinee here yesterday was smaller than on the previous day, but what it lacked in numbers was made up in interest that was shown as Manager McCormick placed the scores upon the bulletin board and gave out the information of the game as it was being played.

The battery for Oak Halls was Watson and Bullock, Orlando, Smith and Story, and some fine work was done on both sides, the runs for Gainesville being made in the sixth inning with good old heavy batting, Watson and Garham each making a two-bagger in that inning and scoring four runs, which won the game.

Some fine ball is being played by the Oak Halls and if they keep up the present good record they are making they will arrive home with at least an even break and Gainesvillians will welcome them with open arms.

Gainesville secured four hits and made three errors, while the Orlando team are credited with five errors and five hits, but the errors are easily accounted for when it is considered that the game was played on a wet diamond, and the small score proves that it was good ball-playing under these circumstances.

Today winds up the series with Orlando, after which the team goes to Sanford for a series of three games, but it is here that they will really strike the strong "proposition," as that city raised a neat sum and even got just a little better team than Orlando, for they "cleaned them" in a double-header at the rate of 4 to 1 and 2 to 0.

The score by innings:
Orlando... 0 0 0 2 0 1 0 0 0—3
Oak Halls... 0 0 0 0 0 4 1 0 0—5

Everyone would be benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative for stomach and liver trouble and habitual constipation. It sweetens the stomach and breath, gently stimulates the liver and regulates the bowels and is much superior to pills and ordinary laxatives. Why not try Foley's Orino Laxative today? J. W. McCollum & Co.

Palatka Defeats Ocala.

From Friday's Daily Sun:

The game of ball between Ocala and Palatka, at the latter place yesterday resulted in a victory for the Gem City boys by the score of 1 to 0. The game was called in the sixth inning on account of rain.

GIRL HAD TO RETURN

HOME IN A BARREL.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Miss Mary Hart, 16 years old, "hung her clothes on a hickory limb," when she went bathing in a canal near Paterson, N. J. While she was in the water a man stole her garments, but with the aid of a barrel, furnished by a woman who heard her screams, she was able to reach her home. The girl later obtained a warrant for John Doe, saying she could identify the man if she saw him.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Phillip Lommel, weighing 270 pounds, has won the championship medal as a beef-steak eater. In a contest with Max Meyers, 275 pounds, at a political club's outing, Lommel gorged himself with ten pounds of beefsteak without getting up from the table, while Meyers was able to stuff only eight and three-quarters pounds into himself.

There were many bets on the contest, which was watched by an excited crowd of several hundred persons.

His Mistake.

The vender of images, who had just been thrown out of a large office building, wept bitterly as he looked at his torn clothes and broken wares.

"Who did this?" inquired the friendly cop. "I'll pinch 'em if you say the word."

"No; it was my fault," said the victim, gathering up the remains of a plaster image. "I insisted on trying to sell a bust of Noah Webster to a meeting of simplified spellers."—Denver Republican.

Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is quickly relieved by the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment is equally valuable for muscular rheumatism, and always affords quick relief. Sold by all druggists.

"My mistake, sir. I took her for a mate, and she proved to be a skipper."

Ideal conditions for any manufacturing enterprise are:

1st. Raw material at minimum cost.

2nd. Low cost of supplies used.

3rd. Low cost of production.

4th. Superior quality of finished product.

5th. High price for finished product.

6th. Market easily accessible.

7th. Consumption outstripping production.

In manufacturing paper from Long Leaf Pine by the Williamson Process we have:

1st—Raw Material at Minimum Cost.

In his sworn testimony before the Select Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives Mr. Gilford Pinchot, Chief of the United States Forest Service, estimates that at the present rate of utilizing the wood throughout the United States will be exhausted in about twenty years, or allowing for growth in about twenty-five years. This tends to prove that the price of wood, already high, will rise continuously. Reports from the United States Census Bureau bear this out: "At the census of 1900 the cost of wood for pulp was greater than in 1890 by over 100 per cent." The average price paid throughout the United States for wood for pulp, delivered at the mill, was in 1900, $7.31 a cord; in 1907 the price had risen to $7.76 a cord, and in 1914 to $12.25 a cord.

We have control of a property containing 1,000,000 cords of wood, the growth of which, according to the United States Forest Service, is capable, under proper supervision, of yielding a perpetual supply of wood for a paper mill of one hundred tons capacity per day. The maximum cost of this wood for all time should not exceed $4.50 per cord delivered at the mill, and should be very much less.

We have then a secured perpetual supply of raw material at a minimum cost.

2nd—Low Cost of Supplies Used.

Lime, one of the most important chemicals we shall use, is found in inexhaustible quantities in a very pure state on practically the same land from which the raw material is taken. It can be handled very cheaply, and the cost delivered to the mill will not be more than one-half the price paid by the average Northern mill. Rosin, the almost universal sizing material, is produced on the property. An abundant supply of water is at the very doors of the proposed mill, and this water is so pure that it needs no filtering. Transportation facilities equalling any in the United States insure cheap freight rates.

The condition then with regard to supplies is eminently satisfactory.

3rd—Low Cost of Production.

All essential factors combine to make our cost of production cheaper than it is in other parts of the country.

4th—Superior Quality of Finished Product.

The best experts in the United States agree in saying that the paper made by the Williamson Process from Long Leaf Pine is superior to sulphite from spruce and is more like rag or new stock than any other pulp or wood paper they have ever seen. An also report of the United States Bureau of Standards, following according to which our papers equal the best imported Kraft papers.

5th—High Price for Finished Product.

The paper we have made has been submitted for valuation to porters, to manufacturers, to jobbers, and to consumers. The lowest value placed upon them has been $40.00 to $50.00 per ton. Our paper is comparable with imported Kraft and Maple Tone, which are quoted today in New York from $35.00 to $40.00 per ton.

6th—Market Easily Accessible.

We have a market commanding at our very door. The adjacent Southern States should take our entire production, which will be less than one-tenth of their present requirements, practically all of which comes from the Northern States on a high freight rate and is made from high-priced raw material.

Transportation facilities and low productive cost will enable us to extend our trade territory at a low marketing cost to all the principal markets.

7th—Consumption outstripping production.

The present demand for paper is so great that it is impossible to supply the demand. The demand is growing faster than the supply.

Ideal conditions for any manufacturing enterprise are:
1st—Raw material at minimum cost.
2nd—Low cost of supplies used.
3rd—Low cost of production.
4th—Superior quality of finished product.
5th—High price for finished product.
6th—Market easily accessible.
7th—Consumption unobstructed production.

In manufacturing paper from Long Leaf Pine by the Williamson Process we have:
1st—Raw Material at Minimum Cost.
In his sworn testimony before the Select Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives Mr. Clifford P. Smith, Chief of the United States Forest Service, estimates that at the present rate of cutting the wood throughout the United States will be exhausted in about twenty years, or allowing for growth, in about twenty-five years. This tends to prove that the price of wood already high will rise continuously. Reports from the United States Census Bureau confirm this: "At the census of 1905 the cost of wood for pulp was greater than in 1900 by over 100 per cent." The average price paid throughout the United States for wood for pulp, delivered at the mill, was, in 1905, $7.35 a cord; in 1907 the price had risen to $7.70 a cord, and in 1908 to $8.25 a cord.

We have control of a property containing 1,000,000 cords of wood, the growth of which, according to the United States Forest Service, is capable, under proper supervision, of yielding a perpetual supply of wood for a paper mill of the hundred-ton capacity per day. The maintenance of this wood for all time should not exceed $4.50 per cord delivered at the mill, and should be very much less.

We have then a secured perpetual supply of raw material at a minimum cost.
2nd—Low Cost of Supplies Used.
Lime, one of the most important chemicals we shall use, is found in inexhaustible quantities in a very pure state on practically the same land from which the raw material is taken. It can be handled very cheaply, and the cost delivered to the mill will not be more than one-half the price paid by the average Northern mill. Again, the almost universal state material is abundant on the property. An abundant supply of water is at the very heart of the proposed mill, and this water is so pure that it needs no chemical treatment facilities, requiring only the United States insurance cheap freight rates.

The condition then with regard to supplies is eminently satisfactory.

3rd—Low Cost of Production.

5th—High Price for Finished Products.
The papers we have made have been submitted for valuation to importers, to manufacturers, to jobbers, and to consumers. The lowest value placed upon them has been $8.00 to $8.50 per ton. Our paper is comparable with imported Kraft and similar grades, which are quoted today in New York from $10.00 to $10.50 per ton.

6th—Market Easily Accessible.
We have a market commanding at our very door. The adjacent Southern States should take our entire production, which will be less than one-half of their present requirements, practically all of which comes from the Northern States on a high freight rate and is made from high-priced raw material.

Transportation facilities and low production cost will enable us to extend our trade territory at a low marketing cost to all the principal cities and important centers of the United States and foreign.
